Purpose of This Knowledge Base

This collection of documents forms the Green Valley Community Hospital Administrative Policy Knowledge Base, version 1.0. The knowledge base was created so that students and developers can practice building a document retrieval and question-answering system, sometimes called a Retrieval-Augmented Generation, or RAG, system.

Each document in the knowledge base describes one area of hospital administration. Together, the documents allow a RAG system to answer common administrative questions by retrieving the most relevant sections and generating a grounded, source-referenced answer.

This reference document does not contain detailed policy rules. Instead, it explains what the knowledge base contains and how the other nine documents are organized, so that a reader or a retrieval system can quickly find the right document for a given question.

How to Use This Knowledge Base

Each of the nine policy documents listed below covers a distinct administrative topic. When a question is asked, the most relevant document and section should be identified first, and the answer should be built only from the text found there. If none of the documents contain information relevant to a question, the correct response is that there is insufficient evidence to answer it.

This is especially important for medical questions. None of the documents in this knowledge base provide diagnosis, treatment, medication, or clinical advice. Questions of that kind fall outside the scope of this administrative knowledge base and should not be answered from it.

Index of Policy Documents

The table below lists all nine policy documents included in this knowledge base, along with the department that owns each policy and a short description of its contents.

Describes general visiting hours, visitor limits, visitor passes, identification requirements, and rules for children and restricted areas such as the Intensive Care Unit.

05. Discharge Process Policy (GVC-DIS-005)

Describes the steps a patient completes before leaving the hospital, including final billing, document collection, property checks, and coordination with the billing and insurance desks.

09. Appointments and Outpatient Policy (GVC-APT-009)

Describes how outpatient appointments are booked, confirmed, rescheduled, or cancelled, and what happens when a patient arrives late or misses an appointment.

Important Administrative Terminology

The following simple definitions are used consistently across the knowledge base. They are provided here so that a reader or a retrieval system encounters a consistent vocabulary.

Term	Meaning in this Knowledge Base
Registration	The process of recording a patient's basic details when they first arrive at the hospital.
Admission	The process of formally accepting a patient for inpatient care after registration is complete.
Cashless request	A request sent to an insurance provider asking it to pay the hospital directly instead of the patient paying up front.
Discharge	The process of a patient formally leaving the hospital after inpatient care is complete.
Administrative Services Desk	The general contact point for questions that do not belong to one specific department.

How to Interpret These Policies

All rules described in this knowledge base, including hours, fees, timelines, and limits, are fictional and were created only for this demonstration project. They should not be treated as the real rules of any hospital, and they should never be used to make actual medical, legal, financial, or insurance decisions.

Numbers such as visiting hours, visitor limits, and processing timelines were chosen so that a retrieval system has clear, specific answers to retrieve. Readers building a RAG system should treat each numbered rule as a fact that can be cited back to its source document, section, and policy ID.
